Defining Your REAL DEAL.

These are the things in which you are
or should be unwilling to compromise, no matter what .

Ultimately, if forced to choose, you would give your all to preserve and protect these facets of your life at the expense of all the others.

Most people never invest the time,
space or courage it takes to confront and really answer this question

We just assume we know.

By default, we form answers of convenience - whatever serves us best in any given situation.

Failure to nail down what matters most to you will continue to waste precious energy, money and opportunity.

You will spend resources on things of lesser importance at the expense of things that really matter.

Deciding what matters most is both difficult and freeing

Aligning yourself between where you buy real estate and your selections is at the heart and soul
of living life richly

Net Worth

VS

LIFE WORTH.

Most people spend
decades sacrificing
their life worth for
net worth.

They live under the assumption that you have to retire on a mountain of net worth before you can enjoy and build your life worth.

Yet, around the world, as people
age and time
becomes more
precious.

most become increasingly concerned with their life worth and decreasingly concerned with their net worth.

The importance of life worth cannot be overstated, for it is the ultimate equation.

The extreme but famous examples teach us that it is possible to die happy with no financial net worth.

T & G

But one cannot die fulfilled
without substantial
life worth.

Few people, however, choose to live such an extreme life sacrificing all net worth in pure pursuit of life worth.

To live Life Rich in the face of uncertainty, volatility or adversity, you need to grow both kinds of worth.

But knowing your values are likely to shift as you get older, the important thing is to...

use your net worth today to help fund your life worth along the way.

Living a Life Rich life gives your net worth purpose
and defines what gives
your life worth.

Select your non negotiable
the one thing you will never compromise on or with.

Critical Element Confidence. To Resilience

Where Does CONFIDENCE Live?

Look in your day where it naturally exists.

Daily operations such as...

Readying for the day, driving into work, going to school, feeding yourself...

Where does a lack of confidence show up?

When an expectation outside yourself arises

Speak, perform, do something.

Wherever doubt exists, confidence dies.

Whenever confidence
escapes you,
trust in self does too.

Confidence defined

“freedom from doubt;
belief in yourself and your abilities.”

Confidence defined

a feeling of trust (in someone or something);

"Confidence is always borrowed, never owned."

Profiting with Purpose.

Sources of Confidence

A lit matchstick is positioned vertically in the lower center of the frame. A bright, intense flame in shades of orange and yellow rises from the matchhead. Above the flame, wisps of translucent blue smoke drift upwards and outwards, filling the upper half of the image. The background is a solid, deep black, which makes the fire and smoke stand out prominently.

The background of the slide is a photograph of a vast landscape at dusk or dawn. The sky is filled with large, dark, textured clouds that are illuminated from below by a warm, orange light, suggesting the sun is low on the horizon. Below the sky, a wide valley stretches out, featuring a patchwork of green and brown fields, some small settlements, and distant hills. The overall mood is contemplative and inspiring.
